Lord. That's the leaſt feare.
For by the ſemblance of their white flags diſplaid, they bring vs
Peace, and come to vs as fauourers, not as foes.
Cleon. Thou ſpeak'ſt like hymme vatuter'd to repeat
Who makes the fairеſt ſhew, meanes moſt deceit.
But bring they what they will, and what they can,
What need we feare, the ground's the low eſt,
And we are halfe way there: Goe tell their Generall wee attend him heere to know for what he comes, and whence he comes, &
what he craues.
Lord. I goe my Lord.
Cleon. Welcome is peace, if he on peace conſiſt;
If warres we are vnable to reſiſt.

Enter Pericles with attendants.

Per. Lord Gouernor for ſo we heare you are,
Let not our ſhips and number of our men,
Be like a Beacon fired, to amaze your eyes,
We haue heard your miſeries as farre as Tyre.
And ſeene the deſolation of your ſtreetes,
Nor come we to adde ſorrow to your teares,
But to releaſe them of their heauy load,
And theſe our ſhips you happily may thinke,
Are like the Troian horſe, was ſtuft within
With bloody veines expecting ouerthrow,
Are ſtor'd with corne, to make your needy bread,
And giue them life, whom hunger ſtaru'd halfe dead.
Omnes. The Gods of Greece protect you,
And wee'l pray for you.
Per. Ariſe I pray you, ariſe; wee doe not looke for reuerence, but for loue and barborage for our ſelfe, our ſhips, and men.
Cleon. The which when any ſhall not gratifie.
Or pay you with vnthankfulneſſe in thought,
Be it our wiues, our children, or our ſelues,
The curſe of heauen and men ſucceed their euils:
Till when, the which (I hope) ſhall nere be ſeene:
Your Grace is welcome to our Towne and vs.

Per.

Per. Which welcome wee'l accept, feaſt here a whi
Vntill our Stars that frowne, lend vs a ſmile.

Enter Gower.

Gower. Here haue you ſeene a mighty King,
His child I wis to inceſte bring:
A better Prince and benigne Lord,
That will proue awfull both in deed and word.
Be quiet then, as men ſhould be,
Till he hath paſt neceſſity:
Ile ſhew you thoſe in troubles raigne,
Loſing a myte, a Mountaine gaine:
The good in conuerſation,
To whom I giue my benizon,
Is ſtill at Tharſus, where each man
Thinks all is writ he ſpoken can:
And to remember what he does,
Build his Statue to make him glorious
But tydings to the contrary,
Are brought t'your eyes, what need I ſpeake

Good Hellican that ſtaid at home.
Not to eate hony like a Drone,
From others labours; for though he ſtriue
To killen bad keepe good aliue:
And to fulfill his princes deſire,
Sau'd one of all that haps in Tyre:
How Thaliard came full bent with ſinne,
And had intent to murder him;
And this in Tharſis was not beſt,
Longer for him to make his reſt:
